

Chapter 2: Irregular plurals

Irregular plurals:
Am besten lernen,
lernen und lernen.

Match the singular and plural nouns

fish	<input type="radio"/>	men
man	<input type="radio"/>	children
mouse	<input type="radio"/>	lice
foot	<input type="radio"/>	people
person	<input type="radio"/>	mice
child	<input type="radio"/>	fish
goose	<input type="radio"/>	geese
louse	<input type="radio"/>	feet

A yellow line connects the 'fish' in the left column to the 'fish' in the right column.

Irregular plurals:
Am besten lernen,
lernen und lernen.

Match the singular and plural nouns

fish	men
man	children
mouse	lice
foot	people
person	mice
child	fish
goose	geese
louse	feet

Connections: fish to fish, man to men, mouse to mice, foot to feet, person to people, child to children, goose to geese, louse to lice.

Chapter 4: have got / haven't got

Diese Ausdrücke verwendet man um zu beschreiben, wer „etwas hat“ oder „nicht hat“, oder man danach fragen möchte.

Look at the pictures. Tick true (T) or false (F).

The boy hasn't got a schoolbag.

T

F

His mother has got a pink shirt.

The boy has not got a watch.

The boy has got dark hair.

T

F

The boy hasn't got red hair.

His sister has got stockings.

The girl hasn't got a green skirt.

The boy has got blue shoes.

Diese Ausdrücke verwendet man um zu beschreiben, wer „etwas hat“ oder „nicht hat“, oder man danach fragen möchte.

**

Look at the pictures. Tick true (T) or false (F).

The boy hasn't got a schoolbag.

T

F

His mother has got a pink shirt.

The boy has not got a watch.

The boy has got dark hair.

T

F

The boy hasn't got red hair.

His sister has got stockings.

The girl hasn't got a green skirt.

The boy has got blue shoes.

Have got / haven't got

Chapter 6: Articles (a, an)

Beginnt das Wort mit einem Vokal, verwendet man „an“.
Beginnt das Wort mit einem Konsonanten, verwendet man „a“.

Put the words into the correct column.

umbrella, bike, eagle, salad, roof, egg, road, eye, adventure, puzzle,
instrument, owner, prince, book;

a	an

Chapter 6: Articles (a, an)

SOLUTION

Beginnt das Wort mit einem Vokal, verwendet man „an“.
Beginnt das Wort mit einem Konsonanten, verwendet man „a“.

**

Put the words into the correct column.

umbrella, bike, eagle, salad, roof, egg, road, eye, adventure, puzzle, instrument, owner, prince, book;

a	an
bike	umbrella
salad	eagle
roof	egg
road	eye
puzzle	adventure
prince	instrument
book	owner

Articles (a or an)

Chapter 9: Possessives

So sagt man „was wem“
gehört, oder „was zu wem“
gehört.

Complete the sentences with the words in the box.

This is _____ sister Petra.

This is Tom and this is _____ ball.

my
your his her
its

Tell me in _____ own words.

That's Nicole and this is _____ brother.

This is the new CD. _____ cover shows the band.

So sagt man „was wem“
gehört, oder „was zu wem“
gehört.

**

Complete the sentences with the words in the box.

This is my sister Petra.

This is Tom and this is his ball.

my
your his
her
its

Tell me in your own words.

That's Nicole and this is her brother.

This is the new CD. Its cover shows the band.